

Casing Head Spools

Casing Head Spool: The adapter (usually flanged) above the Casing Head and either the BOP stack (during drilling) or the next wellhead stage (after completion), and allowing suspension and sealing of another casing string.

Standard Features

- straight bowl design with a 45° landing shoulder
- accepts automatic and non-automatic sealing casing hanger as well as mandrel type casing hanger
- side outlets are studded as standard; studded outlets are threaded for valve removal plugs
- available with plastic energized or self energizing interference type secondary seals
- can be provided with lock-down screws for retention of wear bushing

