

Tubing Head Spools

Tubing Head Spool: The adapter attached above the casing head / spool and the smallest casing string, used to suspend and seal the production tubing string

Standard Features

- straight bowl design with a 45° landing shoulder
- available for single and dual tubing hanger
- side outlets are studded as standard; studded outlets are threaded for valve removal plugs
- have a series of lock-down screws for retention of the tubing hanger
- available with plastic energized or self energizing interference type secondary seals
- can be supplied with clamp-hub connections as an option

